Trade School Site Sought for Hope

Although there are 17 cities making application Hope has a fair chance to get the site of one of the two Vocational Technical Schools planned for Arkansas this year on a 50 - 50 arrangement between the state and federal governments, local business men were told at a chamber of commerce meeting in the city hall Thursday night.

Our geographical location helps, although it will take other factors besides a central site to capture the new project, speakers told the meeting. They pointed out that Hope's central location is already proven by the fact that this area has the district highway department office, the district state police office, the Fruit & Truck Branch Experiment Station, and a major district office of Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.

Two of these trade schools are planned this year, one for northeast Arkansas, the other for the southwestern corner — which is Hope's objective, State Representative Talbot Feild, Jr., told the audience.

Each school installation will require at least 40 acres of ground, he said, because training includes such things as learning how to operate bulldozers and other earth-moving equipment. Other training subjects are: Architectural drafting, auto mechanics, machine shop technique, practical nursing, radio and television technique, and others, Earl Downs, vocational guidance counselor of Hope High School, said.

Continuing with Rep. Feild's remarks:

"Building and equipment for each school will cost $500,000, borne 50 - 50 by state and federal governments. It will cost $225,000 to operate, accommodating 300 day and 450 night students. Federal funds are ready and the state's share will be available July 1."

Other speakers were State Senator Olen Hendrix of Prescott, and Supt. James H. Jones of Hope Public Schools. Mr. Jones pointed out that a trade school prefers high school graduates but will accept non-graduates who have special aptitudes.

Bill Gunter, president of Hope Chamber of Commerce, presided over Thursday night's meeting.

At the conclusion it was voted to authorize a special committee to choose a 40-acre site at once, since the Advisory Committee for the state government will begin inspecting sites very soon — and Hope must have a site at least under option.

418 School Districts Checked

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Department of Education revealed Thursday part of its findings thus far in a study of the 418 school districts in the state.

In 13 school districts studies, the department said, these deficiencies were found:

Twelve are operating on low or limited budgets and the 13th (Newport) has a large debt service millage that tends to limit future expansion.

Three of the 15 high schools have no principal.

Fourteen of 23 elementary schools have no principal.

Eight of the high schools have too few pupils for an adequate program.

All schools need more supervisors.

Ten of the districts do not have sufficient property tax to support adequate education programs.

Eight of the high schools do not offer courses in foreign languages or fine arts.

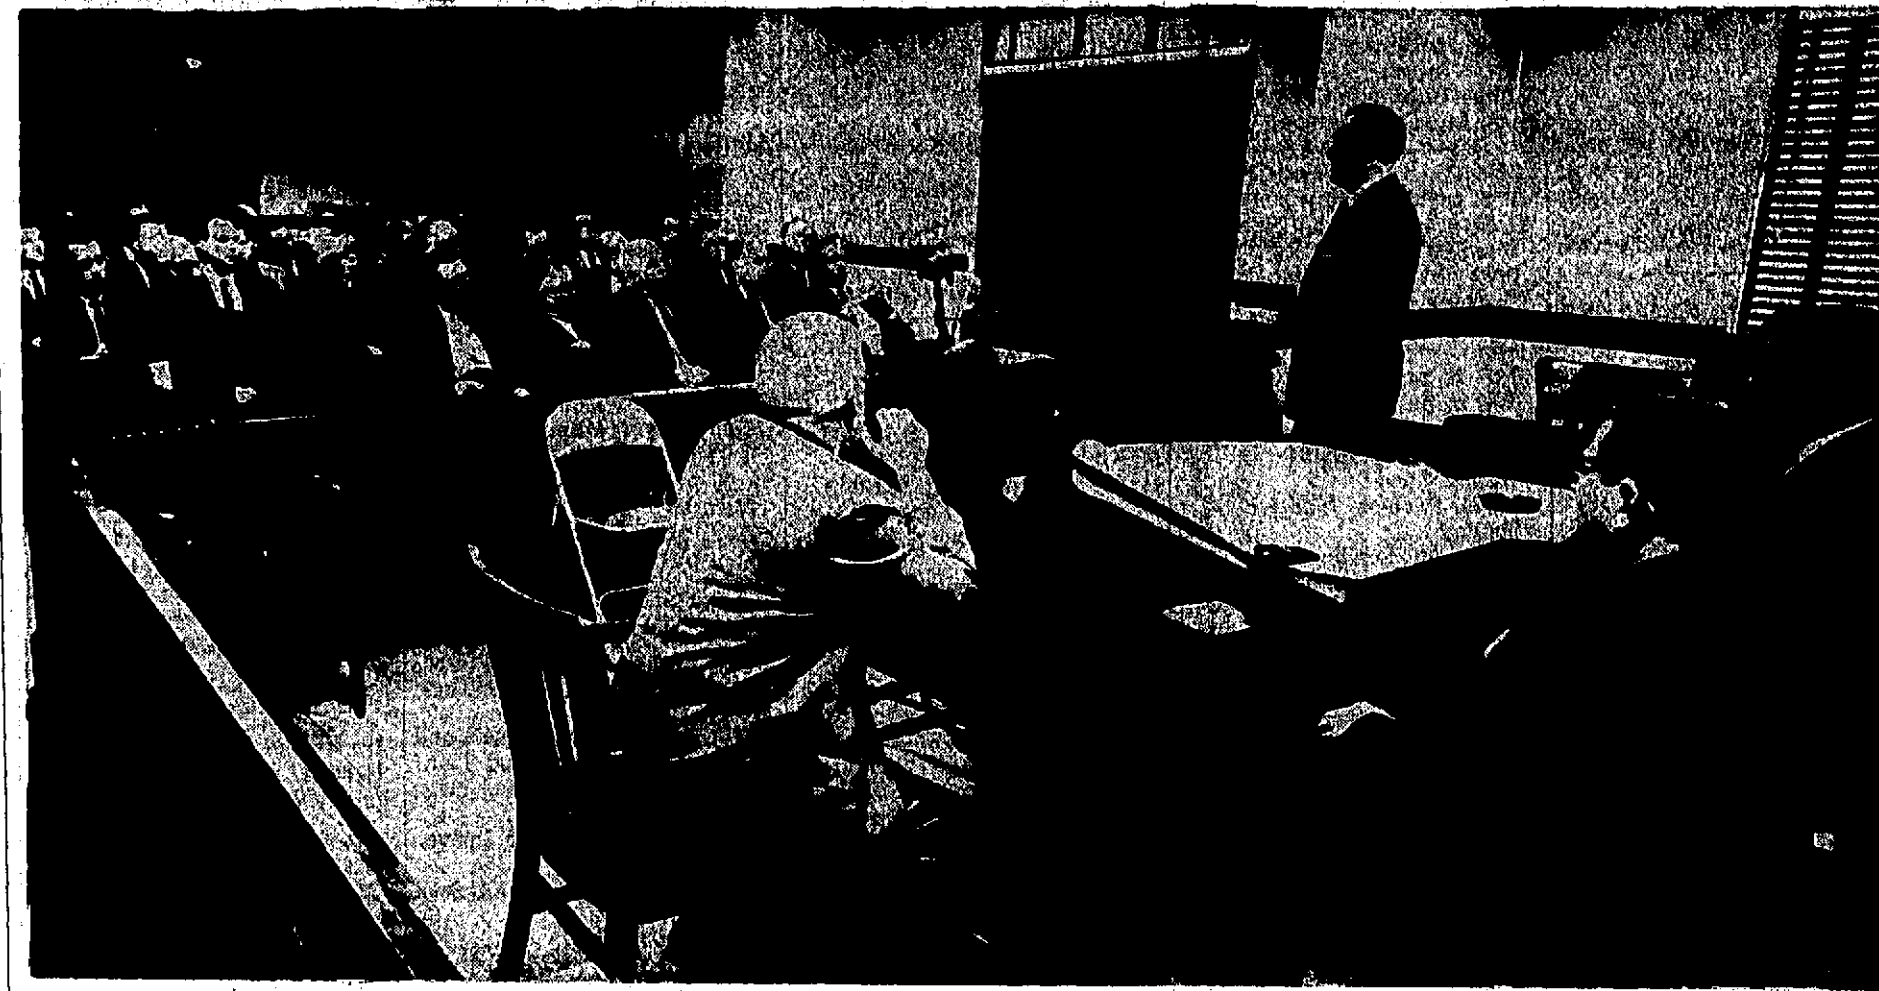

The schools in the district report were Beedeville, Grubbs, Newport, Swifton, Tuckerman, Strawberry, Walnut Ridge, Imboden, Lynn, Hoxie, Egypt, Clover Bend and Black Rock, all in Jackson and Lawrence counties.

Leaders of Both Parties Are Doing Best to Ease Through Huge Pay Raise for Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — Leaders of both parties are doing their best to ease a $10,000 pay raise for members of Congress through the House with a minimum of fuss.

The big raise, part of a $545-million pay boost package for 1.7 million federal workers, already has cleared the Rules Committee and is scheduled for floor action Wednesday.

Its way was smoothed Thursday when the Republican Policy Committee, which normally stakes out the GOP position on major legislation, decided to remain silent on it.

The big hope of most members who support the bill is that on final passage Wednesday they can also remain officially unrecorded by avoiding a roll call and sending it to the Senate by voice vote.

It's not that they don't feel they are worth the $32,500 a year the bill would give them. But voting for it, on the record, might prove embarrassing in an election year.

Tank Blast Leaves 18 Still Missing

ANACORTES, Wash. (AP) — An empty tanker exploded and sank only 15 miles from its destination early today off Whidbey Island in Puget Sound.

Coast Guard rescue craft picked up 26 survivors, leaving 18 of the 44-man crew from the tanker Bunker Hill unaccounted for. The survivors, badly burned and cut, were taken to hospitals here and at Whidbey Island Naval Air Station.

Cause of the disaster is not yet known.

A crewman, Sheldon Phillips of Seattle, said the 504-foot tanker was bound for the Shell refinery at Anacortes from Tacoma, Wash., when it was racked by a series of explosions shortly after 4 a.m. The vessel sank quickly about 15 miles from Anacortes and 80 miles north of Seattle.

Phillips said he was washing tanks when the blast occurred. John Coughlan, a Seattle radio newsman, flying over the scene, in Rosario Strait, reported that debris was scattered over a wide area "and the explosion must have been terrific."

The Bunker Hill went down about two hours before dawn. Survival time in Puget Sound's frigid waters in the winter is estimated at little more than an hour.

The tanker was owned by the Keystone Tankship Corp., Wilmington, Del., and carried petroleum products for the Shell Oil Co.

Woman 82, Just a Bootlegger

READING, Pa. (AP) — An 82-year-old woman was fined $100 Thursday and placed on probation until her 100th birthday for unlawfully selling liquor and beer.

Mrs. Laura Bayard of Reading said she sold the liquor to supplement her relief checks.

Rain Expected in Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Rain is expected to spoil an otherwise mild and pleasant Arkansas weekend.

Sub-freezing temperatures predicted for the state failed to materialize generally. Low readings ranged from 29 at Batesville to 46 at Texarkana, but were mostly in the upper 30s.

High readings in the upper 60s to low 70s are predicted for Saturday, with rain beginning in the west by late today and moving eastward across the state.

Cooler temperatures were expected to spread over Arkansas late Saturday.

The Weather Bureau said rain will total about an inch during the weekend and early next week.

Refugees Being Re-located

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The Cuban refugee center reported today that 75,000 exiles have been relocated from Miami to other American cities.

Honored jointly as 75,000th on the resettlement list were these families: Radames Hernandez, en route by automobile to Burbank, Calif.; Felipe Planes, leaving March 15 for High Point, N.C.; and Rodolfo Diaz, who flew to Freeport, Ill., Thursday.

About 100,000 refugees still live in the Miami area.

Trying to Light Up Walk Signal

BALTIMORE (AP) — Three fire engine companies, a truck company and a battalion chief responded to a fire alarm box at a northeast Baltimore intersection early Thursday and found Sam Walker, 66, punching the alarm button.

Police, who said Walker told them he thought he was pressing a button that would light up the walk signal at the intersection, charged him with turning in a false alarm.

Russia Wants to Expand U.S. Trade

MOSCOW (AP) — First Deputy Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin told an American government delegation today that the Kremlin wants a long-term trade agreement with the United States.

The delegation, led by U.S. Undersecretary of Commerce Clarence D. Martin, signed an agreement Thursday with the Soviets permitting extra-large American ships to discharge wheat in the Black Sea port of Odessa.

Martin reported: "They are very interested in developing trade with the United States. They want trade agreements of the long-term variety."

Martin said Kosygin told them the Soviet Union can supply anything that Western Europe is sending the United States and at lower prices.

Richard Funkhauser, U.S. Embassy economic counselor, accompanied the delegation to the Kremlin.

Funkhauser said the Russians are especially interested in the sale of manufacturing licenses to the United States.

Kosygin indicated the Soviet government might also be interested in buying some licenses from the United States. He gave no specific example.

The United States never has been enthusiastic about signing a government - to - government trade agreement. It feels trade is strictly a matter for private enterprise, provided the Western embargo on strategic items is not violated.

However, Martin commented that he felt Kosygin's proposals are worth exploring.

Martin said he understood Kosygin was the ranking government official in Moscow at the moment. Premier Khrushchev is believed to be starting a month-long holiday on the Black Sea.

British Open Recruiting Drive

LONDON (AP) — The British army is opening a recruiting drive among Negro immigrants to push itself up to full strength, War Secretary James Ramsden told the House of Commons Thursday.

Presenting the army's $1.464-billion budget for the coming year, Ramsden put the total strength of the army at 171,588 men, about 8,000 short of its target.

King Paul of Greece Dies Today

ATHENS (AP) — King Paul of Greece died today, the government announced.

The monarch's only son, Crown Prince Constantine, 23, succeeds Paul as king.

The 62-year-old ruler made his son regent on Feb. 20, the day before undergoing an emergency four - hour operation for stomach ulcers.

A team of five physicians had called the operation successful and for many days the King was reported making a steady recovery.

But on March 1 he came down with a blood clot in his right leg and the next day developed another blood clot in his left lung.

Earlier today, the sixth of the monarch's ordeal, a medical bulletin said he "showed a slight improvement."

The bulletin did not change the grim assessment by the palace physicians Wednesday that medical science could do no more for the king.

A palace source said the king had opened his eyes this morning, saw his wife Queen Frederika and his son and murmured: "I feel a little better."

Paul received Holy Communion Thursday. Hours later the doctors said his condition was "becoming rose and worse," "becoming worse and worse."

MacArthur Undergoes Surgery

By FRANK CAREY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Army doctors began exploratory surgery this morning on General of the Army Douglas MacArthur to try to pinpoint the cause of an obstruction to his biliary system.

The operation began at 8 o'clock, officials of Walter Reed Hospital said.

Surgeons said before the operation that the possibility of cancer could not be ruled out but that they were "hoping and praying" they would find only that the 84-year-old general's ailment was due to a gallstone lodged in one of the bile ducts in his abdomen.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Army surgeons removed Gen. Douglas MacArthur's gall bladder today and said they found no evidence of any cancer.

The post-operative condition of the 84-year-old warrior and hero of two world wars was described as "satisfactory."

The surgeons reported after a lengthy operation beginning at 8:00 a.m. EST that they also had removed gall stones from the common bile duct, a key passageway in the abdomen.

MacArthur's son, Arthur, arrived in Washington Thursday afternoon and presumably was with his father before the operation began.

The operation was being performed by Lt. Gen. Leonard D. Heaton, surgeon general of the Army, who operated on former President Dwight D. Eisenhower when he was stricken with a serious abdominal ailment during his presidency. The other chief surgeon was Col. Thomas J. Whelan.

The assisting surgeons were Capt. Robert Benson and Capt. Gary Wratten, and the anesthesiologist Col. John A. Jenicke, all of the hospital staff.

Complaints of Being Ticked

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — James Elsele, a keeper in the monkey house at the zoo, wants someone who is not ticklish assigned to one of his duties.

He explained to authorities Thursday that several times a week he must squeeze between the glass partition and the bars on the cage of Bamboo II, the gorilla, to clean the area. Everytime he shows up for the task, Bamboo pokes a finger into his ribs and tickles him, Elsele complained.

'Incredible Journey' Top Film Show

Walt Disney's "The Incredible Journey" opened at the Saenger theater Thursday night and will be repeated Friday night, with matinee and night performances on Saturday. Starting schedule at night is 7 o'clock with second show at 9:03.

This is one of Walt Disney's all-time greats, as your reviewer judged it at the opening here Thursday. It is an unusual story in that the suspense depends entirely on the thoughts and actions of three domestic animals as they get lost from home and find their way back again — which ordinarily might be a slim plot on which to hang an hour and a half of movie entertainment.

But in this case it's not ordinary — it's extraordinary, being just another way to spell "Walt Disney"... America's greatest contribution to the entertainment of the world.

Also extraordinary are the three featured animals: Luath, the rugged Labrador Retriever, leader of the crew.

Bodger, the old and failing Bull Terrier, just going along with the others' adventure, and —

Tao, the sassy Siamese cat, who, it develops, is a much better hunter and self-sufficient character than the dogs when it comes to exploring a wilderness.

There are many thrilling scenes in the picture but the absolute standouts are these two:

1. When the old Bull Terrier gets mixed up with a couple of black bear cubs and is floored by mamma bear — and has to be rescued by the young fighting Labrador Retriever, and

2. The time when Tao the Siamese cat ran into a giant lynx and the two hot-footed it through the woods for a good five minutes and the lynx finally cornered the cat in a hollow log. It looked like the end of kitty-cat for sure — but you'll have to see the show to learn how Tao escaped.

Don't miss "The Incredible Journey" — it's the greatest. — Washburn

RFK Trying to Halt Draft Drive

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy is suddenly trying to put the brakes on a fast-moving drive to press him forward as President Johnson's running mate in November.

Described as genuinely surprised at the campaign's momentum, Kennedy issued a statement through a spokesman Thursday saying he wishes "to discourage any efforts on his behalf in New Hampshire or elsewhere."

The vice presidential choice, he said, should be left to Johnson and the Democratic convention. He did not say whether he would accept second place on the ticket if it were offered.

The statement came in the wake of reports Kennedy and his advisers were favoring a write-in campaign for him in the March 10 New Hampshire primary.

Nixon Would Again Accept Nomination

NEW YORK (AP) — Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon said today he is ready to accept the Republican nomination for the same post again.

He stressed that he is not a candidate for either the presidential or vice presidential nomination but that he would do what his party asked.

Nixon, appearing on the NBC-TV "Today" program, was asked by interviewer Hugh Downs whether he would accept second spot on the ticket.

"I know you are going to expect me to say 'no' because I have been vice president for eight years and have run for president," Nixon replied.

"But I don't go along with the current talk among the present candidates for downgrading the vice presidency. I think it is time to upgrade it. And as far as I'm concerned I'm making it clear that I'm not a candidate for president and not a candidate for vice president but I will do whatever my party asks me to do and I feel everybody else should, too."

"The vice presidency, as Lyndon Johnson's present position proves today, is as important as the presidency."

Nixon said that the big surprise in the New Hampshire primary next Tuesday may be on the Democratic rather than the Republican side.

He said there were so many contenders in the Republican presidential primary that nobody could win a decisive victory.

Nixon forecast a large write-in vote for Atty. Robert F. Kennedy for the Democratic vice presidential nomination — one that might start a groundswell that would propel him into second spot on the ticket.

$84,114.20 Race Ticket Unclaimed

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Danny Tuzon, a Filipino cook, said today he is the winner of the biggest payoff in U.S. horse racing history — the $84,114 on Thursday's twin double at Gulfstream Park.

Les Smith, news director of Miami radio station WIOD, telephoned Tuzon at the Crown Hotel after receiving a tip that he was the winner.

Tuzon admitted that he was going to take the afternoon off and cash in the ticket for which he paid $2, but he made it plain that he wanted no publicity.

"No radio, no television, no picture, no comment," Tuzon said. "Goodbye."

Jerry Coogan, the hotel chef, said the ticket was purchased for Tuzon by a friend.

For a time, it was feared that the ticket buyer might have thrown it away in disgust when another horse was declared the winner of the eighth race. That horse later was disqualified.

A bespectacled gentleman in his mid-60s announced after the winners were posted Thursday that he held the good ticket.

"I'll take it back and give it to my friend," he said without giving his name to the startled spectators leaning against the rail in the $1 general admission section.

That was the last heard from any potential winner at trackside, and the windows closed at 6:30 p.m., without anyone claiming the check. The ticket can be cashed at the track any time before the meeting ends April 23.

In racing argot, there were 218 "live" tickets after the first half of the twin double. They picked the longshot Scattergood, who won the fifth race and paid $142.60, and Col. Mengel, who won the sixth race and paid $8.60.

The 218 tickets were then exchanged for selections on the eighth and ninth race. Only one of the 218 bet on the longshot Initabas to win the eighth race. Gathering Dust came in first.

At this point, the disheartened bettor could have thrown down his ticket, or ripped it to pieces. But Gathering Dust was disqualified and Initabas was awarded first place.

The largest previous twin double payoff was $79,660.30 at Roosevelt Raceway last fall.

THE WEEPING WIDOW MINE

By Nelson C. Nye

THE STORY: Charlie Medders is on his way to Tucson with ore from a big find in the mountains. In Tucson, his old rival, T. K. Jones, is waiting to receive him. Jones has a judgment against Charlie.

When he was far enough away to feel beyond the priest's reach Medders, giving over, hauled up in the shade of an ancient mesquite to mop his steaming brow.

The priest was in the corn moving jerkily about, head down and bent over like a grazing horse, his face not scarcely half a foot above the ground. Even as he watched, Charlie saw the padre pounce and come up with something which he vigorously rubbed against a hiked-up fold of his dusty black soutane.

It didn't take Medders hardly a gulp to get the connection between that rock he'd pitched at Begat and Begetta and the something the old man was so engrossedly studying.

In his sudden perturbation Medders felt half minded to go reclaim the chunk of ore. It was one of his carefully culled jewelry specimens, of about the same weight and worth as the little gleaming beauty that skirted jeezabel had made off with after all their fine words about soul mates and marriage and the wonderful tomorrows they could share in double harness. Women!

Charlie snorted.
"Worse than the seven years' itch."
She was a awful, all right—cuddly as a kitten; but Charlie Medders—though he might not look it—wasn't to be caught up in no kind of net like that. Cheaper to give her a full half interest and stake that Eduardo mule out where she could get hold of him. Worth half the mine to be rid of her, he'd thought. And, proving him right, off she's gone like a shot.

Well, she'd talk, like enough. Probably yak her fool head off so it didn't too much matter about that chunk the padre was fisting. Might even tend to confuse things a little. Might even turn out that a few more wouldn't be wasted if left to be found where these school boys could peddle them.

Tramping after his burros, sweating and mumbering, he put out the bait until his pockets were empty, setting up the last bit in the center of the trail where it made the big loop snaking down to the crossing. Didn't made no never—mind to Charlie who came onto it.

Any Papago would savvy a hunk of rock rich as this could be wink quick swapped for a snootful of firewater. Give T. K. something to think about, maybe.

Despite that whopper he had told the priest nothing could have been more remote from his intentions than to find himself clobbered with T. K. Jones. When he'd set off on this pack trip three days ago Phoenix had been his avowed destination. But, following Eduardo's tracks, more enticing notions had intervened.

What, after all, could that overstuffed hog do? A man got bored with hiding out; and it wasn't Medders had done anything a gent could really be judged for. If Jones hadn't been so anxious to buy, heckling and pestering to get in on what his own grasping mind had built into a bonanza, he would never have got bit. It was T. K.'s own perseverance that had fashioned the coup, suggesting the soft touch by which—refusing to sell—Charlie Medders had latched onto a cool $15,000 with nothing but a gutted hope for collateral.

Now if a feller could put any dependence in a female... but such preposterous thoughts was price is still below 1960 and 1961 levels. Prices tumbled from these heights when the industry was plagued by rising capacity and declining demand. That has now changed at home and is changing abroad.

Copper demand has also picked up smartly here and overseas. Credit goes to increased capital investment here and even more in other leading industrial nations. But copper companies have been particularly sensitive to competition of other materials and have been loath to raise prices. In the United States the price has held at 31 cents a pound since May 1961, its longest peace-time period of stability. Wage negotiations later this year may have an effect on both demand and prices.

Soaring tin prices have led the U.S. government to release some of the metal from its defense stockpile to aid hard-pressed consumers. Much of the rise of tin to a 13-year high last month came from the threat to production and onset of markets by the political turmoil in Southeast Asia.

Metals have a history of being a cyclical industry, flourishing when the economy does, sinking first and often furthest when business turns dull.
Right now they're on the upswing. The tax cut might make the cycle a fairly long one.

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—Metals have furnished most of the price rises accompanying the upturn in business in recent months. Many look for other basic commodities to follow suit after the economy has been sufficiently stimulated by the federal income tax cuts.

But the metals haven't waited. Steel, aluminum, tin, lead, zinc, silver are some that have gone up of late.

Much of their rise has been from previously weak positions so that today's prices often are well below historic peaks. But still further price boosts easily could be on tap if American industry takes off on a sharper upturn as widely expected. New orders by manufacturers now pouring in spell higher demand for many metals.

Pressures that caused price weakness in metals just a year ago are at the moment pretty well eased. These have included excess production facilities and high inventory of consumers. Still bothersome are lower-priced foreign metals. But this, too, is diminishing as demand rises elsewhere in the world and as foreign prices go higher, too.

One factor that still remains is competition. In many fields more than one metal now competes. Comparative prices sometimes can be the determining factor in sales. Also, metals face competition from plastics, glass, cement and wood for many uses. And this has acted as a brake on price rises in the past, and will continue to be a factor in the future.

But the demand picture for most metals has brightened steadily since last summer. Steel orders and production continue to climb, with no let-up sighted for several months at least. And selective increases on steel products have been announced at intervals.

Aluminum shipments have hit record levels. Price increases on its products and now on basic ingots have followed, but the

DOROTHY DIX

REACHING 30 WITHOUT AN AFFAIR MATTER OF DETERMINATION
By DR. JOYCE BROTHERS

Dear Dr. Brothers: Not long ago I heard a woman commentator declare that any unmarried woman over 30 who has never had an affair is unlucky. I find her statement disturbing. What do you think? — Miss 27.

Dear Miss 27: The morals of a single woman over 30 seems to provoke amused comment. The comment you write about is typical. In our society, when a woman reaches 30, she is a complex person. Neither the virtuous woman of 30, nor the woman of 30 who's constantly jilted by so-called "heels," are victims of luck.

Behavior patterns, emotions, and responses cannot be changed over night. Psychiatrists know that it takes months and sometimes years of hard work for a person to change.

The sexual drive in both sexes is so strong, and society is permissive enough, so that if a woman decides to remain virtuous, luck or chance has very little to do with her decision. Sheer determination, either conscious or unconscious, is the only driving force that allows her to abstain.

Modern society is very different from the one Freud was writing about. Sex and sexual problems form cocktail conversation, along with the weather, politics and the stock market. If our 30-year-old goes to the movies, watches television, read magazines, or novels, she constantly comes across the theme of love and passion outside of marriage.

The 30-year-old who has participated in an affair is no longer a courageous rebel. She is simply a 30-year-old who is unmarried, and having an affair. She will not be stoned by an angry mob, nor will she be the heroine of a young Bohemian set.

Dr. Albert Ellis, who has collected material illustrating American attitudes toward sex, love and marriage, finds that that attitudes toward premarital sex are most contradictory. He found that immorality literature, sex for the unmarried was considered, and I quote, "bad, silly, and pointless, but thoroughly enjoyable, but normal and natural, but necessary for healthy living, but smart and gay, but likely to get you into trouble with your society, but something, of course, my wife never practiced."

We find the same conflict among our young people. They have one set of values for themselves, and another set for other people. They are permissive for their friends, and conservative for themselves.

A study done on the prevailing attitudes toward sexual morals in our young people indicates that their attitude toward their own morality is a surprisingly conservative one.

For example, Dr. Phillip E. Jacobs reports that the study of a large group of girls at a mid-western university revealed that their actual opinions and behavior were much more orthodox than those attributed to them by their fellow students. About 85 per cent of today's students believe that an individual should remain chaste until marriage. It is not bad luck, but rather a firm belief in the advisability of remaining chaste that keeps a woman so until she marries.

Usually, religion and family attitudes are influential in a woman's conscious decision that relations outside of wedlock are wrong. This explains she abstains, but it does not explain why she does not marry. For some women past 30 who do not choose to marry, unconscious fear plays an important role in her decision. The commentator's statement that you write about misses the point. The real tragedy is not that by being virtuous a woman at 30 has missed an aspect of life, but that she's not been able to find a man whom she can love and share a lifetime with.

Don't Be Afraid of Daydreams!

A study of adult daydreaming was conducted at teacher's College, Columbia University.

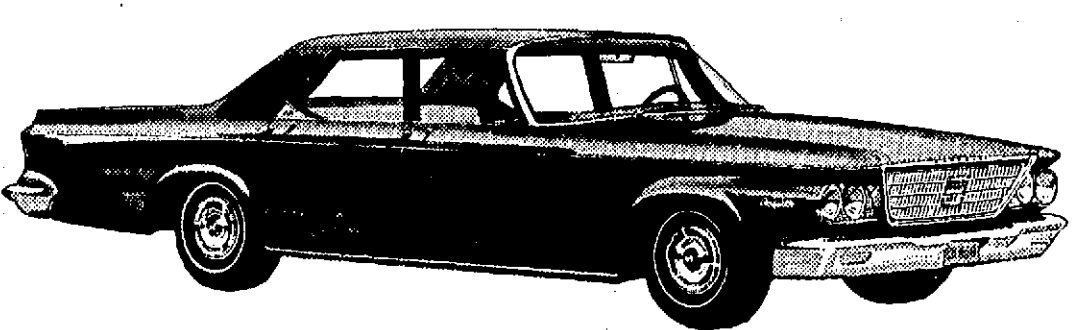

Without exception, all the adults reported daydreaming. Daydreaming occurs when a man or woman is alone, and usually when he or she is on the verge of sleep. We daydream about the things we want, and about what we fear. A bit of daydreaming is a wholesome outlet for our feelings, and it's also a key to what we really want. By our daydreams, we learn what is bothering us, and what we need to make us happy.

Brandt Also Believes He Is Better

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

MIAMI (AP) — Every manager Jackie Brandt has played for has said that the Baltimore Orioles' unpredictable center fielder is a better player than he's shown. Brandt agrees.

"I just don't understand it," says Jackie. "I'm a line drive and hard ground ball hitter and those are the kind who hit for high averages. But somehow I don't. I think I'm a .300 hitter but I've never reached that figure in eight years in the big leagues."

The 29-year-old native of Omaha, Neb., has shown occasional flashes of brilliance. More often than not, however, he has been just an average performer. Sometimes very average.

"A Baltimore writer once said the most consistent thing about me is my inconsistency," offered Brandt. "I guess he just about summed it up."

"I don't know why. I certainly give everything I've got all the time. I know I'm not the luckiest hitter in the world. It seems to me I get robbed of a hit a game.

"The defense today is sensational. Guys like Clete Boyer, Zorry Versalles, Ron Hanse, Bobby Richardson, Tony Kubek and our own Brooks Robinson and Luis Aparicio catch everything. They're simply great. And Jim Fregosi of Los Angeles is going to be a great one, too. These guys drive you crazy with the hits they take away from you."

"I hit a line drive that I know is going through the infield for a base hit. Two steps away from the plate, I look up only to see the ball on the way to first base. This demoralizes you."

"It happens again and again. Pretty soon I'm 0 for 29, or something like that. So I change and go for the long ball. Instead of hitting it out of the park, I pop up. This really tees me off."

Brandt hit a new career low of .248 last year. He drove in 61 runs, his most meager output since he joined the Orioles in 1960. The year before Brandt hit only .255.

Unnoticed Dons Get NCAA Berth

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Virtually unnoticed nationally the San Francisco Dons have won 16 straight games and a berth in the NCAA tournament that determines the national collegiate basketball champion.

What's so special about that? Well, it was just 10 years ago that the Dons got started on their record 60-games winning streak that led to two straight national championships. Maybe history will repeat.

Big Bill Russell, now the mainstay of the champion professional Boston Celtics, was the star for the Dons in those days. Currently it's Ollie Johnson, a 6-foot-8 junior from Washington D.C., who delights Coach Pete Peletta.

The Dons go for their 17th in a row against Pepperdine tonight in one of the top games on an attractive Friday night program.

Unbeaten UCLA, top-ranked in The Associated Press poll, shoots for its 26th straight against Southern California, fourth-ranked Duke bales North Carolina in the semifinals of the ACC championship tourney and fifth-ranked Wichita meets Drake in a playoff to decide the Missouri Valley Conference representative in the NCAA.

Bowling Green's 89-80 upset of eighth-ranked DePaul and Duke's 75-44 trouncing of North Carolina State in the first round of the ACC tourney highlighted Thursday night's action.

Howard (Butch) Komives, the nation's leading scorer, threw in 47 points against DePaul including 17 of 17 from the foul line that upped his consecutive free throw streak to 42. The Blue Demons, NIT-bound, at one time in the second half trailed by 17 points.

Jay Buckley, with 21 points led the Duke romp. In the first round ACC games Wake Forest drubbed Virginia 79-60, North Carolina defeated South Carolina 80-63 and Clemson mauled Maryland 81-67.

"The defense today is sensational. Guys like Clete Boyer, Zorry Versalles, Ron Hanse, Bobby Richardson, Tony Kubek and our own Brooks Robinson and Luis Aparicio catch everything. They're simply great. And Jim Fregosi of Los Angeles is going to be a great one, too. These guys drive you crazy with the hits they take away from you."

"I hit a line drive that I know is going through the infield for a base hit. Two steps away from the plate, I look up only to see the ball on the way to first base. This demoralizes you."

"It happens again and again. Pretty soon I'm 0 for 29, or something like that. So I change and go for the long ball. Instead of hitting it out of the park, I pop up. This really tees me

Bobcats Come Through in Tournament

By CARTER HARDAGE
Hope Star Sports Writer

Paul Henley paced the Bobcats to a 72-63 victory over Fairview last night in the first round of the District Tourney at Malvern with his rebounding and shooting.

Hope's win will pit them against Camden tonight at 8:00. The Panthers were victorious over Magnolia 69-57 in last night's action.

A 76-63 win by Smackover over Crossett entitled them to the rather dubious honor of facing Malvern at 7:00 this evening. The Leopards, host team because of their 9-3 record, also drew a first round bye because of their top standings in the round robin.

The Bobcats, aided by the return of starter Johnny Honeycutt and top notch playing all around, went ahead in the First Quarter 16-12, and commanded the lead all the way.

Fairview used a full court press to try to subdue the Cats, and Hope switched to a full press from their zone at the second period. Hope led 39-28 at the Half.

Having an extraordinarily better than usual Third Quarter, the Cats continued to widen the already large gap separating the two squads to 56-41.

The Birds came back a few points in the final period, but never did they pose a threat.

Paul Henley was high scorer with 25 points. Dan Jones had 15. Jerry Burnett and Johnny Honeycutt 10 each, and Bill Reinhardt 10. Bobby Bush of the Cards, leading scorer in 4AA was held to only 19.

Tom Ohara Seeking a Mile Record

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO (AP)—A sellout crowd of 16,000 will be ready in Chicago Stadium tonight to cheer hometown boy Tom O'Hara to a record indoor mile attempt.
The skinny Loyola of Chicago senior is featured in the Chicago Daily News Relays as he defends his Bankers mile title on the banked board oval.
It will be the first time this season a local throng has had a chance to toast O'Hara, who brought down the house in two Madison Square Garden meets in New York.
Last month, the 130-pounder with a kick like Irish whiskey knocked two full seconds off the indoor record with a 3:56.6 in

Brick Works Boys Defeats Dean's

Larry Walker had 34 points for the brick boys while Honeycutt with 24 was high for Dean's.

Discourage to Pinchers, Slappers

WINNIPEG, Man. (AP)—The Manitoba Liquor Control Board put it up to the night spots: either give scantily clad waitresses more maneuvering room or make them wear more clothes.
The aim was to discourage "slappers and pinchers," a commission spokesman said.
The deadline was March 1. So far three Winnipeg spots have crossed the girls up rather than increase the floor space per customer from 12 square feet to 14.

The New York A.C. Meet.
Last week at the Garden he did 3:58.5, in the Knights of Columbus Games, then indicated he would try to lower his own record in the Chicago Relays.
Pitted against him will be Bill Dotson, Kansas graduate; Jim Grelle, Los Angeles Track Club, and a pair of Toronto runners, Ergas Leps and Jim Irons. Irons is expected to try to pace O'Hara through three-quarters in three minutes. Tom then would shoot for a :55 last quarter.
Grelle and Dotson were clocked in 3:59.8 last year as they trailed O'Hara across the finish. O'Hara's victory was a Bankers mile record of 3:59.5.

State's Rook Named to Second Team

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Jim Boutin of Lewis and Clark in Oregon has joined the ranks of two-time Little All-Americans in small college basketball.
Boutin, 6-foot-5 senior, is the only repeater on the 1964 Little All-America announced Thursday by The Associated Press.
Named to the first team with him were Lucious Jackson, 6-9 senior from Pan American, Tex.; Willis Reed, 6-10 junior from Grambling, La.; Cecil Tuttle, 6-1 senior from Georgetown, Ky., and Tom Black, 6-10 senior from South Dakota State.
Boutin, who led Lewis and Clark to a third straight North-west Conference championship, joins Dick Barnett of Tennessee State, Charles Sharp of Southwest Texas, Charles Hardnett of Grambling, Bob Mahland of Williams and Roger Strickland of Jacksonville, Fla., as a two-time Little All-America.
Bill Witacis of Scranton, a 1963 first team choice, headed this year's second team in the voting by 83 sports writers and broadcasters. Al Thrasher of Wittenberg, another 1963 Little All-Amer was out much of this season because of injuries and was generally ignored in the voting.
Fred Jones of Youngstown, Willie Shaw of Lane, Tenn., Jerry Rook of Arkansas State and Pete Spoden of State College of Iowa also were named to the second team.
Boutin, Jackson, Reed and Tuttle were so outstanding that they received a number of votes for the AP's Big All-America which was announced Wednesday. Black was the winner over Witacis in a close contest for the last spot on the first team.

Terrell Is Favored Over Zech

NEW YORK (AP)—Big Ernie Terrell ranked a whopping 3-1 favorite to beat Germany's even bigger Gerhard Zech tonight in their heavyweight bout scheduled for 10 rounds at Madison Square Garden.
The fight will be nationally televised over ABC at 10 p.m., EST.
Terrell, a 6-foot-6 Chicago product and currently No. 3 in the heavyweight rankings, is expected to come in about 215 pounds. The craggy-faced blond German is 6-foot-7, about 210 and a left-hander. He's not ranked.
Zech makes his Garden debut as an unknown quantity. He won the German championship with an 11th round knockout of Albert Westphal and has a string of 11 straight victories going, including six knockouts. His over-all record is 27-1-1.
Terrell, who gained his high ranking with impressive victories over Cleveland Williams and Zora Folley in his latest outings, expects a little trouble because of the German's left-handed style but still rules the heavy favorite because of his 34-4 record against good opposition.

Delight, Dyess Meet in Class B Tournament

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Delight meets Dyess and Hickory Ridge plays Biggers-Reyno in semifinals of the state Class B boys basketball tournament here tonight.
Hickory Ridge pulled out of a see-saw battle Thursday to drop Marmaduke 66-60; Dyess downed County Line 99-55; and Biggers-Reyno led from the start to beat Cedarville 53-46.
Cedarville went into its game with a 36-2 record, but managed only a 2-2 tie before falling behind for keeps.
J. C. Morrow pumped in 27 points for Biggers-Reyno and Dale Brown got 23 for the losers. Biggers-Reyno led 37-30 at halftime.
Marmaduke trailed only 24-21 at halftime, but Hickory Ridge spread its lead to 13 points in the second half.
John Lemke and Roger Green each hit 19 points for Hickory Ridge and Ronnie Brewer got 23 for Marmaduke.
Dyess was in command all the way in beating County Line. The Eagles led 19-5 in the first quarter and 20-21 at halftime.
Albert Brown netted 22 points for Dyess, with Bob Chastain leading the Indians with 18.

Waldo Goes Into the Semifinals

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Manila outgunned Judsonia in a blazing shooting match Thursday night to set the state for the Class A state basketball tournament semifinals here tonight.
Waldo plays Rector and Brinkley meets Manila in semifinals.
In quarterfinal action, Manila dumped Judsonia 102-99 and two records fell; Brinkley beat Mulberry 54-50; and Rector eliminated Mountain Home 64-59.
No more than seven points ever separated Manila and Judsonia, and each team had a lead that large in the fourth quarter.
The combined total of 201 points beat the old record of 168, and Manila's total beat the record 95 points the team set earlier this week.
Danny Wood crammed in 45 points for Judsonia, with Gary Coats hitting 26. Tom Towles led Manila with 29 and Gary Wells got 21.
Roger Benham (26 points) and John Wilcox (21) accounted for all but three Mulberry points.
Brinkley trailed 25-24 at halftime, but broke into the lead and held a 44-34 lead in the last quarter.
Steve Fowler got 14 points and Buck Rusher had 13 for Brinkley.
Rector's tough man-to-man defense checked Mountain Home. Bill Cossey put in 24 points for Rector and Bernie Harris hit 12 for the losers.

Casey and Mets Invade Mexico

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Casey Stengel and his adventurous New York Mets are in Mexico in what may be the wildest invasion there since Gen. John Pershing went looking for Pancho Villa 48 years ago.
Stengel, though, hopes his forces come out of it a little better than Pershing's. Several of the general's 12,000 troops were killed, and they never did capture Villa.
The Mets certainly are in a bad enough way that they can't afford to lose any of the 24 players and officials who arrived in Mexico City Thursday night. They also are looking forward to conquering the Mexico City teams they play in a series of three exhibition games starting tonight.
New York, of course, has a secret weapon going for it—Casey's mouth—if you can call that secret.
Still, the Mets face numerous hazards, more, it seems, than Pershing's expeditionary forces did.
According to mimeographed plans, the Mets were warned to "drink nothing but bottled water. Whenever you have a mixed drink, soft or otherwise, make sure that the ice cubes are made of bottled water."
Pershing undoubtedly didn't have the luxury of bottled water, but he also certainly wasn't faced with some of the other dangers confronting New York.
"Mexican fans are ardent baseball souvenir hunters," the Mets were advised. "Hold on to your hats and everything else you may have, particularly when leaving the ball park."
"The team will dress at the Hotel Alameda, where it will be staying, and go to the ball park in uniform. All equipment will be brought back to the hotel after each game and will be placed under lock and key."
No sooner had the Mets arrived in Mexico City than Stengel experienced what he was in for. Some 300 persons enthusiastically greeted the team at the airport. The welcoming committee, or the advance force, became so enthusiastic that police had to rescue Casey from the midst of a group of them.

In other training camp developments, General Manager Buzzie Bavasi of the Los Angeles Dodgers indicated that base stealing shortstop Maury Wills may have to get into shape without pay when the Dodgers open their season next month.
"Wills can't expect to miss spring training and go on the payroll when the season opens," Bavasi said. "If he signs and isn't in shape when the season opens, he'll have to train some more before he goes on the payroll."
Relief pitcher Stu Miller is having contract trouble with Baltimore. Miller said he and the Orioles are $2,000 apart on a raise from his 1963 salary of $30,000. He wants the boost for

Hawks Find the Going Very Tough

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

You could just see Billy Reay rubbing his hands as his Chicago Black Hawks came east this week for a couple of National Hockey League games with the New York Rangers and Boston Bruins. The Hawks were in a life and death struggle for the NHL's top spot with the Montreal Canadiens and a breather against the two tail-enders sure looked good to Reay.
Well, today the Hawks lead the Canadiens by one point but it's no thanks to the Rangers and Bruins. Reay's club took it on the chin from New York Wednesday and very nearly got the same treatment from Boston Thursday. A late rally salvaged a 4-4 tie and combined with Detroit's 7-5 victory over Montreal, left the Hawks one point in front.

Chicago's Red Hay beat goalie Ed Johnston with 3:27 remaining to forge the tie. It was the fourth time the Hawks had come from behind to knot it after a Boston goal.
In Montreal, it was one of those nights for goalie Charley Hodge, who watched seven Detroit shots whiz past him.

setting records with 71 pitching appearances, 59 games finished and 26 games saved.
"I've come down as far as I'm going to, and that's the extent of it," Miller said. "I'm selling insurance, and I may stick to it."
Then there's Tommy Brown of the Washington Senators who wants to be sure he can quit baseball and join the Green Bay Packers of the National Football League in July if he isn't satisfied with his baseball progress. That's why he hasn't signed his contract.
A former star athlete at the University of Maryland, Brown was drafted second by the Packers after the 1962 season. However, he signed as a bonus baby with the Senators last year as a first baseman-outfielder.

Hodge, locked in a tight duel with Chicago's Glenn Hall in the Vezina Trophy race, saw his margin trimmed to a single goal as seven different Red Wings scored.

Porkers Close Out Season With Victory

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Arkansas closed its losing basketball season on a winning note, walloping Texas Christian 108-77 here Thursday night.

The Razorbacks grabbed a 4-2 lead and shifted into high gear. It was a point production record for Barnhill Fieldhouse, paced by sophomore J. D. McConnell's best night—23 points.

The triumph left Arkansas with a 6-8 Southwest Conference record and put TCU at 0-14 in league play.

Bobby McKinley, a sophomore guard, led TCU with 36 points—an all-time high for a TCU guard and second highest number of points ever scored in a game by any Horned Frog player.

Arkansas hit 44.7 per cent from the field to 37.7 for TCU, and the Razorbacks had a 51-50 rebounding edge.
